Congratulations! Both you and the winning bidder will receive emails with instructions, within 25 minutes after the auction ends.

If you haven't received it yet, please check in your Junk mail. You may have to change your junk mail settings. The emails are sent by auctions@dailypaintworks.com.

You will be given the buyer's email address in your email and the buyer will be instructed to log in and go to the auction page where they can click on a PayPal button that will take them to a purchase page on your account using the PayPal email address you entered when you created your auction. Or, if you accept checks, they can contact you to arrange payment.

Feel free to contact your buyer at anytime.
